Forecast For Scotland
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 1600 on Tuesday 25 May 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Mainly cloudy northeast, far north Wednesday, sunshine and showers elsewhere.

This Evening and Tonight:
Showers in central and southwestern areas dying out this evening. Some clear spells but cloud and occasional rain developing in the northeast this evening, pushing south to reach the Central Belt and Borders later in the night.

Wednesday:
Damp start in southeast. Then sunny spells developing across much of Scotland with a few afternoon showers, warmer with lighter winds. Northeast and far north staying cooler and cloudier,.

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:
Thursday starting cloudy in east then sunny spells for most, quite warm, Friday mainly sunny in northeast, coastal haar, cloudy and damp south and west. Saturday mainly dry, brightening up.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.